Title	Surgery in Implant Dentistry
Objectives	The University Master of Surgery in Implant Dentistry (MoSID) is designed for the general dentist who has already taken the first step into the field of implantology. The Course is intended for dentists who wish to develop their theoretical knowledge and practical clinical experience of treatment planning and maintenance of dental implants. The Master's programme aims to provide general practitioners with the confidence to select patients, diagnose, treat and perform implant cases. The Master's programme will provide an understanding of the biological basis of implantology, provide clinical training through practical trials that will enable dentists to safely perform surgical procedures and design and perform maintenance of patients with dental implants. The didactic mode of the Master's programme is blended: the programme combines theoretical webinar and classroom practice. It considers your time constraints and work responsibilities and is designed for those who would find it difficult to travel to the Master's premises. The Course allows you to recreate the dynamics of a real classroom by following the theoretical part of the programme through live lessons. The total number of Master sessions is 5. Online lectures will be recorded and can be reviewed for further study. Graduates will be able to independently plan and implement therapy concepts for the treatment of patients requiring dental implant prostheses. The course concludes with a Master's thesis on implantology topics that will prepare the student during the year and discuss at the end of the course. The official language of the CPD course will be English
